

Become a partner | FUTURE VOICE is looking for an office apartment in Berlin.

Your company can move a lot. With a partnership, your company invests in the future generation. Conversely, you benefit from a positive perception and your contribution to Berlin, Germany as a social and thus economically attractive location.

FUTURE VOICE

FUTURE VOICE is an internationally operating non-profit organization based in Berlin, Germany, officially recognized for the promotion of youth welfare, education and international understanding. We give the future generation the opportunity to express their position on social issues, on children's rights and human rights, across borders, cultures and ages.

We promote a peaceful dialogue inside of societies as well as transboundary. Art and creative expression are used as a mediative mouthpiece. Our work is based on 15 years of experience, in successful cooperation with schools, partners and sponsors.

FUTURE VOICE is looking for an office apartment in Berlin.

For the provision of an office apartment in the urban area of Berlin on the operating cost rate, we would be pleased to present you as a supporter on our website as well as on all our printed products. We work with high quality standards in all areas. Our project results reach a wide, manifold audience through a developed network. Our print products include posters, flyers and art catalogs, which are created in cooperation with professional partners. A presentation of our partnership within your company profile is possible at any time.
